Boiler House

Designed by architect Henry Whittaker, this heritage art deco boiler plant adjacent to The Whittaker was originally a functional steam plant providing a reliable source of heat to all the buildings on the site. Dating back to the 1930's it features asymmetrical step-massed architecture, gothic-inspired quatrefoil insets, and narrow linear windows. A technical innovation of its time, the Boiler House will be a landmark amenity and is the inspiration for the character and ambience of The Whittaker.

Onni's Commitment to Public Greenspace

Onni's goal at Victoria Hill is to reinforce the existing natural splendor. Victoria Hill is a site rich with mature landscaping and a variety of tree and plant life which have been maintained throughout the last century. The dormant state of the site prior to development has allowed for the proliferation of multiple types of vegetation. Onni must adhere to strict guidelines with respect to the conservation and enhancement of the existing mature trees and green space. In fact, out of the 65 acre site, approximately 40 acres will be set aside for park space and pedestrian greenways all of which will be improved and dedicated back to the community.
