A NEIGHBOURHOOD ROOTED IN HISTORY

Settled in 1870 and officially named Murrayville by the local post office in 1925, this historic community blends city convenience with the charm of small-town living. Visit Tracycakes, where locals go to catch up over a home-style baked treats made with old-school ingredients. Or try Porter's Bistro — a popular coffee and lunch stop for everyone from RCMP officers to the local swim club. On weekends, visitors push the tables and chairs aside and the bistro becomes a live music venue.
