A SENSE OF COMMUNITY

Port Moody was at one time the westerly terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway and was the link to the far east silk trade. Today there has been a revival of cottage industries including no less than 5 craft breweries - along with numerous artists and craftspeople living and working in the region. And, because the waterfront continues to play a role, there are opportunities to kayak or stroll along the shoreline trails.

The addition of the new Evergreen line with two stops in Port Moody and the existing West Coast Express make it easy to get around the Lower Mainland.

ROCKY POINT PARK

Embrace nature and a waterfront view at Rocky Point Park. This escape from the city is a Port Moody gem and the perfect location for a family outing. Breathe in the fresh air while taking advantage of one of the hiking or bike trails, or if the weather is nice, take a dip in the outdoor pool and relax with a picnic.

CRAFT BREWERIES

Multiple breweries have made Port Moody their home, transforming a "sleepy" suburb into a have-to-visit destination. Stop by one of these local hangouts and enjoy a local brew on a patio with friends.

COQUITLAM CENTRE MALL

Don't feel like heading to the city? Nearby Coquitlam Centre is a mall teeming with popular shops and restaurants. So whether you are looking for the latest fashions or a place to eat with the family, the place for you is only a four minute train ride away.

SCHOOLS

Port Moody is home to schools for students of all ages and is a great location for college students commuting to Simon Fraser University. With multiple elementary schools, including French immersion and high schools, Port Moody is well equipped to handle its growing population.

Buildings define us. All of us. After all, we spend the majority of our lives inside a building of one sort or another. So, the better a building is, the better our lives can be.

That’s our calling and our passion – to build great buildings. Buildings that contribute to improving your quality of life. Since 1985, we’ve built over 11,000 homes and we plan to continue for generations to come.

Modern and memorable design. High quality construction. Thoughtful green initiatives. An exceptional after-sale Customer Care Program. These cornerstones help define the life you can live in a home we build for you – one with peace of mind and pride of ownership. You can rest assured knowing that you are in good company.
