

2503 Falcon Way

Delta, BC

Starting from $549,900

A new master-planned community by Aquilini, Boardwalk is a refreshing new option for families living in the Lower Mainland. With room to breathe. And with the safe, close-knit feel of a traditional family community. With freedom to roam, kids will play street hockey, ride bikes, explore. Neighbours will know each other by name, families will grow up together, and friendships will flourish. In many ways, it's a classic neighbourhood. In other ways, it's anything but.

Boardwalk is a new take on what suburban family living can be: contemporary architecture that turns aspiration to reality. Thoughtful amenities designed for today's families and their needs. An enviable oceanfront location.

The best part is that all of this is remarkably—refreshingly—within reach.
