

Parkside at Lynn

In the home

- We care just as much about how your home looks as how it feels. The kitchens are a focal point, with big islands – some nearly 9 feet wide – for gathering. There's lots of room for entertaining too, with spaces made for large dining tables for hosting friends and family. Big windows and low window sills pull in lots of natural light, and taller ceilings create more volume.

In the kitchen

- A great kitchen supports a great chef. In some ways, Parkside kitchens are always mises en place. Everything is where it should be. Nothing is where it shouldn't. Drawers are smartly placed where you need them, and cabinets and pantries are appropriately sized for real storage. Appliances are important too. Gas ranges to cook the perfect sunny-side-up egg or to get water boiling faster. A good-sized fridge and dishwasher are meshed with the cabinets, hidden behind wood-panel doors. Whether you're a budding chef or seasoned pro, a Parkside kitchen is simply better.

In the Bathroom

- It's like a spa, but at home. Some bathrooms have a deep soaker tub. Some bathrooms have a frameless glass shower. The master en-suite bathrooms have both. Wood cabinets appear to float off the floor, while tiles cover the ground and walls. Deep sinks add both function and interest (sometimes as pairs) and so do the mirrors. Rounded glass corners are just some of the details that we feel matter. Details that, when added up, make a Parkside bathroom better.

The Lynn Club

- It adds so much more to the time you spend at home. This private clubhouse includes an indoor swimming pool, a great room, a fitness centre, a movement studio for stretching and an outdoor patio with a barbecue.
